

Holy Rosary recognized as one of nation's best schools

Wednesday, October 20, 2004 - by Yvonne Ramsay

Anchorage, Alaska - Holy Rosary Academy in Anchorage is ranked at the top of its class.

The national Catholic High School Honor Roll ranks Holy Rosary as one of the top 50 Catholic schools in the nation. The award is based on three categories, including commitment to academic excellence, Catholic identity and civic education.

The Catholic High School Honor Roll is based on votes by Catholic college presidents and noted Catholic scholars.